The Joseph P Cory Foundation is a non-profit, whose mission is to empower people and communities to achieve wellness and wellbeing through expertise, education and guidance. Our body of work fosters a return to basics; our original state of self-sustainability, community, and a responsible connection with Mother Nature - restoring mind, body, and spirit.

We design programs because we believe everyone, everywhere, should embrace a healthy, holistic approach, so they can purposely influence their own wellbeing: Gardens of Hope, JOPCO Consortium of Health and Wellbeing, and our Online Video Wellness Library.
